Since 1965, Zipper-Technik has been a leading manufacturer of solutions for heat protection, cable management, and EMI shielding. As part of the global Zippertubing® Group, we draw on decades of experience in development and production. All our products are manufactured in Germany and meet the highest quality standards.

Using proven materials, innovative manufacturing technologies, and functional design, we oversee the entire development process - from the initial concept to serial production. Whether in small batches or large-scale production, our solutions are always precisely tailored to customer requirements.
